Kellogg & Andelson Accountancy Corporation Acquires West Los Angeles Office of Kelson Rood Stoll & Winkler

Los Angeles, CA — October 1, 2008- Kellogg & Andelson Accountancy Corporation, a leading provider of accounting services to the business community, announced that it acquired the West Los Angeles office of Kelson Rood Stoll & Winkler, CPAs (KRSW).

Started in 1988, KRSW has become a prominent accounting firm serving clients throughout Southern California in the areas of accounting, business and tax consulting, and income tax return preparation. Jeffrey B. Stoll, one of the founders of KRSW will be joining the Kellogg & Andelson team, adding not only his tax, business, and accounting expertise but additionally his background in financial planning.

With two of the most recent acquisitions of Markman & Brecker Associates and Wien Sales Vizvary and now with the acquisition of KRSW, accounting firms in West Los Angeles better take notice, because Kellogg & Andelson is quickly establishing a very dominant presence. “We are pleased to welcome the clients, Mr. Stoll and his professional staff to Kellogg & Andelson. We look forward to continuing to provide the high quality of service Mr. Stoll’s clients have come to expect. We will continue to enable the success of their clients by delivering premium quality tax and accounting, while also opening the doors to the vast array of services K&A can provide,” said Christian Payne, President and Chief Executive Officer of Kellogg & Andelson.

“I welcome the opportunity to join Kellogg & Andelson. In the recent past, my focus was on saving tax dollars for clients. Joining K&A will give me an opportunity to spend more time helping clients accumulate and manage their wealth, provide for guaranteed income in their retirement, and preserve their lifestyles. I feel confident that my clients will receive the highest level of service from K&A and open doors to new opportunities that a larger firm can provide to them.” reported enthusiastic Jeffrey B. Stoll, Partner KRSW.
